Dear Martin Kari,

Congratulations!

Your book “BEGGAR & other COMEDIANS” is now promoted in the New York Times Book Review Sunday edition together with the other fourteen bestseller books of PageTurner Press and Media. This issue was already published and was in distribution last Sunday, March 20, 2022.

The New York Times Book Review is considered one of the most influential and widely read book review publications in the industry. It is also considered the most prestigious book review source in the United States with millions of subscribers and readership both print and digital.

Your book being chosen as one of the featured books in the New York Times Book Review is a privilege! This has established the credibility of notable choices of best of the crowd books and authors. They always get thousands of submissions all the time for book features and reviews and luckily we are chosen among the few who got into this week's issue.

One more great news is that our layout design was such an attention-catcher that out of thousands of publishers who submitted PageTurner Press and Media was one of the few that was approved to be included in the Book Review 2022 issue. This will make your book feature more noticeable to a wide range of audiences.

We are requesting the actual printed copy from the New York Times company and after we receive the physical copies, we will send it to your mailing address in no time. For now, I've attached to this email the PDF file of the feature.

I hope you feel ecstatic about this news. Once again, congratulations!

Kind regards,

Christian Edulan
